Twentieth Sunday in Ordinary Time
August 20, 2017

May God have pity on us and bless us.

Well, There is plenty to discuss in today's readings. But, I would like to focus on one theme found in all the readings; the idea that Christ's mercy devolves to all, Jew and Gentile.

We see in the first reading from the Book of the Prophet Isaiah; "The foreigners I will bring to my holy mountain and make joyful in my house of prayer." From the Letter to the Hebrews; "For God delivered all to disobedience, that he might have mercy upon all." And, finally, from the Gospel; "'O woman, great is your faith! Let it be done for you as you wish.' And the woman's daughter was healed from that hour."

His mercy is upon all of us. Can we find any comfort greater than this? What is the only requirement to receive this mercy? Faith! Do we have faith in Christ? Yes, faith can falter. But, do we regain it. Yes, we can have lapses in our faith. But do we come back to Christ and ask for His mercy? This simple requirement and all will be well; eternity in paradise. What more can we ask for?

Your brother in Christ,
Jeff Altig

Have pity on me, Lord!
