From the Desk of .....Ann Hook
Thirteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time
July 1, 2018

Reflecting on this week's readings, I thought of faith, touch, healing, justice, and equality. In this Gospel reading there are two stories of healing brought about by faith and touch. One is about Jairus' daughter who is dying. Jairus has faith that if Jesus touches his daughter she will live. The other story is about a woman who has been hemorrhaging for twelve years. She has faith that if she touches Jesus' clothing she will be healed. In both cases their faith in the touch of Jesus heals them.

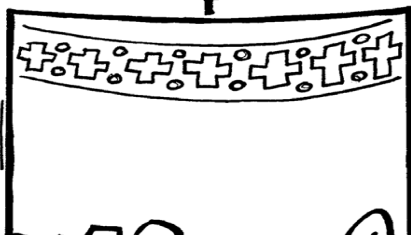

This Gospel reading reminds me of an article I read called "The Healing Power of Touch". Recently, while talking with a friend who had just returned from missionary work in Africa, I was reminded of this article and how powerful touch can be. My friend, Sister Kay, a Medical Missionary of Mary, is a dentist. After clinic hours she was asked to see three gentlemen who had signed in earlier that day to see the medical doctor. When their turn came they did not answer the call to see the physician but waited until everyone left. Then they asked to see Sister Kay. She examined them and prescribed medication. Curious, she asked why they didn't see the physician because he could have may have prescribed stronger medication. They answered, "But Sister you touch us." Sister Kay physically, emotionally, and spiritually touched those men. Touch is a powerful instrument of healing. We can also bring healing to others by touching them with our hearts.

The first reading from the book of Wisdom tells each of us that we can gain immortality by living just and righteous lives. Our second reading from Saint Paul's second letter to the Corinthians stresses equality. The rich should not get richer as the poor get poorer. All of us should strive toward equality and the common good.

Our Catholic faith provides all of us with guidelines on how to live just and righteous lives. We live in a country founded on the principles of equality and justice. On July 4th, the United States celebrates Independence Day, the day the Founding Fathers bravely signed the Declaration of Independence. In part the Declaration reads "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness."

As Catholic citizens of the United States we have a responsibility to live by the teachings of our Church and work to maintain the principles upon which our country is founded. God Bless America!

Fear is useless;

Trust is needed

MASS ATTIRE!

Please remember that modesty, respect and good judgment in your choice of dressing is very important when attending mass or other church services. Dresses, skirts and shorts should be near the knee. Off the shoulder or low cut dresses or blouses, tank tops, muscle shirts and tight fitting clothes are a sign of disrespect to the church.
