Third Sunday in Ordinary Time
January 26 2020

Our readings today are about light, God given light that brings great joy.

Isaiah says “The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light”. The cause of this light is the birth of a child. This light is Jesus to whom we were united since our baptism. Because we responded to this light we were given power to become the people of God.

In the second reading, St. Paul speaks of unity among the people. He urges them and us to be united in the same mind and purpose. Our oneness is rooted in our common faith in Christ. It is these right and loving relationships with God and one another that bring us true joy.

In the Gospel of Matthew, Jesus goes to Capernaum by the sea. There Jesus calls two pair of brothers. They were fishermen and Jesus called them to follow him. They left all and followed Jesus. This is how God calls us, in our everyday lives. If we follow, He changes our hearts.

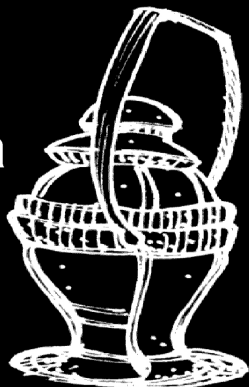

We end this meditation on Divine light with the last part of the canticle of Zechariah. “In the tender compassion of our God, the dawn from on high shall break upon us, to shine on those who dwell in darkness and the shadow of death and to guide our feet into the way of peace.”

And, from John 8:12, “I am the light of the world say the Lord; whoever follows me will not walk in darkness, but will have the light of life”.

Respectfully,

T. Rios
