The 2007 Southwest Challenge Series links up the top Duathlons and Triathlons in the Southwest. Point standings are kept at each race based on finish by category, with champions being crowned at the end of the season.

Anyone is eligible for this unique and exciting series and there is no extra cost to be included in the series championship. Entrance into any of the Southwest Challenge Series events will automatically make you eligible. We invite you to enter all of these outstanding races as your points will be accumulated from your best eight finishes. You must compete in and finish at least eight events. Your age for all series events is your December 31, 2007 age. Bonus points will be awarded for participation in SWCS races in excess of the required minimum of eight and for participation in the Buffalo Springs Lake Triathlon.
