From the Desk of..... Kirstin Keller
Twenty-Fifth Sunday in Ordinary Time
September 24, 2017

Dear Sisters and Brothers:

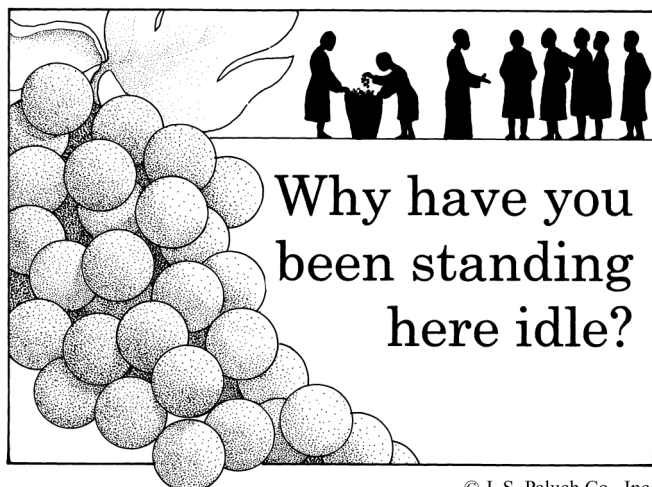

This week's Gospel could not have come at a better time. These last few weeks have been a very tumultuous time for me. So many things happening all around: Natural Disasters, Lay-off notices, Stress of the unknown; all of these things have been at the forefront of an already busy schedule of an active life. The difference between now and previous times in my life is that I have had a sense of calm about me that I normally would not have. I have embraced everything with the attitude of "everything is going to be okay, it will work out".

Throughout the last few months I have continually reminded myself that this is all in God's plan and to trust that things are set to unfold with or without me fighting it along the way. I have also focused on the power of prayer and I have been praying more than I have in a very long time. The power of positivity and prayer is an amazing thing! Work hard, be honest, be kind, try your best, and good things will happen!

"Thus, the last will be first, and the first will be last."

In Christ,

Kirstin Keller
