17th Sunday in Ordinary Time
July 28, 2019

In today's Gospel reading from Luke, we are told of Jesus' teaching on prayer, a parable on the persistent neighbor and assurances that God hears our prayers.

The disciples notice Jesus praying "in a certain place." They ask him to teach them to pray, just as John the Baptist had taught his disciples. Jesus teaches them the most famous Christian prayer, the Our Father, or the Lord's Prayer. We pray that God's name will be recognized as holy and that his rule over all will be established. This is followed by petitions for our needs for bread (Eucharist), for forgiveness, and for deliverance.

Having taught his disciples the Our Father, Jesus goes on to reassure them that God answers prayers. Jesus tells a parable about a persistent neighbor who asks a friend for bread at midnight. The friend is already in bed and has no desire to disturb his family by opening the door. But because the neighbor is persistent, the sleeping man gets up and gives him all that he needs. If a neighbor is willing to help us if we are persistent enough, how could God not respond to our requests?

This teaching concludes with the reminder that if we seek, we will get a response. If a human father, with all his faults, knows how to give good gifts to his children, how much more will our heavenly Father give us? Instead of good gifts, however, Luke substitutes the word Holy Spirit. This foreshadows the gift of the Holy Spirit.

The parable and the concluding teaching in this section should not lead us to think of prayer as simply as a series of requests presented to God. Rather, as Jesus teaches in the Our Father, prayer consists in recognizing God's holiness. Prayers will be heard and answered, but not always in the way expected.

So, along with praising God in prayer, we also ask God for all that is good. We can ask God for anything with the condition that what we ask for is in accord with God's will and is for God's greater glory.

In prayer God gives us all the good thoughts we need to become whole. Prayer shows us how to perform all our actions well. Every action of those who reverence God is a continual prayer. Those who give alms, visit the sick, and practice other good works, are praying. They are voices praising God with their good actions.
