

Old San Miguel Mission
One of The Oldest Catholic Churches in the United States

Mission Statement
We Strive to Bring People Closer to God.”
(Adopted August 5, 2008)

Parish Vision Statement

We, the faith filled members of San Miguel Parish and its Missions, a part of the Archdiocese of Santa Fe, find strength, unity and grace in the Celebration of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. As the voices and hands of Jesus in our time, our purpose is to express God’s grace by offering Christian Love and Service to each other and to everyone we meet. We reach out to the world in prayer, action and deeds in unity with the Holy Roman Catholic Church.

FROM THE DESK OF..... LORELLA CHAVEZ

Twenty-First Sunday in Ordinary Time

August 25, 2019

What is harder, being a child or being a parent? Both are painful. Both are learning experiences. Being a parent means exercising responsibility for children. Being a child means learning responsibility from a parent. Sometimes that responsibility is measured in punishment.

In many modern societies, punishing a child can be verbal, but not corporal. In many other societies (like the ancients), corporal punishment is expected. In one society, the parent allows the child to suffer the consequences of an act. In other societies, the parent is the instrument of such consequences. In either case, the parent uses what is popularly known as “tough love,” parenting a child with consequences for wrong acts.

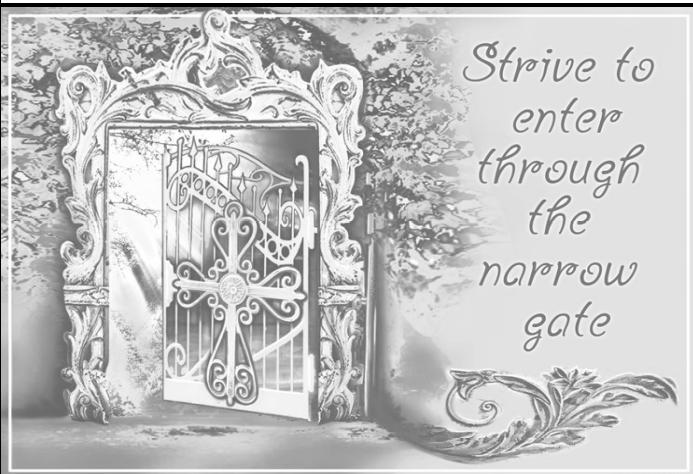

Obviously, the author of Hebrews has something like “tough love” in mind as an analogy to the life a Christian sometimes endured. In other words, for the Christian, life could be unfair. Being a Christian meant spiritual growth, analogous to the maturity parental discipline can bring. Through life’s struggles and injustice, the Christian would learn to make the right decisions and live a peaceful life.

Whether the “tough love” parenting analogy for life works or not, we can all agree that life is sometimes unfair. There are times we cry out, “Why me, God?!” Those are the times that require personal resolve and support from others. Those are the times we can look back upon as “growth moments,” times that are not enjoyable, but do bring us closer to God and his people.

Sometimes our faith is challenged because God does not act according to our expectations, our specifications, or our timetable. At these times, God may seem very distant. But, God works in strange and surprising ways. When he does act, God does not ask us to merely acknowledge his existence. He wants us to trust in his plan for us. He wants us to grow in faith.

So, maybe the question should not be “Why me, God?” Instead maybe we should ask ourselves, “Why not me?” for none of us is any better than the other?

Trust in his plan!!!
Yours in Christ,
Lorella
