Who is Qoheleth?

Today's first reading, from the Old Testament, comes from the book of Ecclesiastes and begins with a verse spoken by a narrator, the rest of the book is spoken by the person Qoheleth (pronounced ko-HEH-leth), who the narrator explains is King David's son, and is King Solomon. Qoheleth is a title and is most often translated as "the Preacher" (RSVCE, KJV) but is better described as "the one who calls together an assembly", assembly being the word used in the Old Testament for the people of God in general or more specifically, the people of God gathered together, what we would call a congregation. The word in Greek is ekklēsia from which we get both the title Ekklēsiastēs which in Latin is Ecclesiastes and the word church.

In our Bible, the book of Ecclesiastes is situated within the group of books called the Wisdom Books, so called because they focus on the pursuit, meaning, and application of divine wisdom, that is, living a life in harmony with God's will by seeking to know that will especially through reflection, and practicing it through moral living and charity. The Wisdom books are Job, Psalms, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, Song of Songs, Wisdom, and Sirach. These books address profound questions about life, suffering, justice, human behavior, and the nature of God. The spiritual writers noted that the order of three of the wisdom books matched each books utilization in the path we should take for progress in our spiritual life. The purgative way can be found in the teaching of Proverbs, the illuminative way is found in the teachings of Ecclesiastes and the unitive way in the Song of Solomon.

Ecclesiastes is not a typical Biblical book. John Bergsma and Brant Pitre describe King Solomon as "engaging in a philosophical thought-experiment about the meaning of life that leads him to the brink of despondency." That said, the Church and the faithful throughout the ages have found it to be a book that brings comfort and emotional release. Notable spiritual writers like St. Bernard of Clairvaux, St. Teresa of Ávila, Thomas à Kempis and many others recommend meditating on it to aid in the detachment from the things of this world and its fleeting pleasures. They also point out that Ecclesiastes, even though it wasn't composed for this purpose, could in theory be performed as "a one-man, one-act play, introduced and concluded by a narrator. After a brief introduction by the narrator, a speaker calling himself "Qoheleth" strides onto the stage to deliver a series of powerful and poetic soliloquies, at the conclusion of which the curtain falls and the narrator's voice summarizes the message of the dramatic monologue for the audience."

In the verses we read today Qoheleth speaks about vanity.

MINISTRIES & SPECIAL CLASSES

Legion of Mary: Tuesdays at 10:00 a.m. @ the San Miguel Church Office Conference Room. For information on Pilgrim Virgin visits, enthronements, and home visits for the sick and shut ins, call: Beatrice Zamora @ 575-517-5246

Catholic Daughters: Every Second Monday of the Month. 6:00 p.m. —San Miguel Parish Hall. For information please call Patricia Landavazo @ 575-418-7062

Knights of Columbus: Second Wednesday of the Month @ 6:00 p.m. at the K of C Hall on Highway 60 West. Corporate Communion every 2nd Sunday of the Month @ 10:00 a.m. Mass.

Today, we think of vanity as a disordered self-love or over attention to one's appearance. However, Qoheleth is speaking more about the fleeting nature of the things of this world. The Hebrew word being used is hebel, meaning a mist, vapor or breath. It speaks to the ephemeral nature of the things of this world. Intriguingly, hebel is the name of Adam and Eve's firstborn child Abel, whose life was also fleeting.

Ecclesiastes also influenced art during the medieval period. Many artists would incorporate symbols relating to the finite nature of our lives such as a skull, hourglass or wilted flowers. A Latin term became popular to describe this ephemerality, Memento mori, "Remember you must die". Presented, not as a threat but as a reminder of the words of Ecclesiastes that all life, and the things in it are fleeting, like the mist. An example of this is below. In the work titled St. Jerome in his study by Albrecht Durer (1514) it depicts the place where Jerome translated the Bible into Latin. See if you can find the hourglass and skull.
